

*Celebrate what is.
Commit to what can be.*

December 15, 2011

Dear Friends,

When you are shareholder of a public company, you have the right to know what is happening with your investment. How is the company leveraging your money? What are the future prospects for growth? Are your stocks going up, or going down? In other words, the bottom line – did you make a good investment?

As a donor to a nonprofit organization, you are, in a sense, a shareholder. As such, you should expect a return on your investments. Your return won't come in the form of dividends or additional stock options. It will come in the form of a changed life, a better community, and opportunities that otherwise would not be possible.

When you make a contribution to one of the Dynamic Partner organizations, you are making an investment in the children, families and communities we serve. We are honored to be the conduit between your generosity and changed lives. We take our responsibility to be good stewards of your contributions very seriously. Like you, we invest wisely. We invest in infrastructure like facilities, technology and equipment. But most of all, we invest in people. Because ultimately, it is people who provide opportunity... It is people who produce results... It is people who change lives!

Enclosed, please find our annual report. It highlights where your investments are going – and more importantly, examples of the returns they are generating. If you would like to see, firsthand, the difference your contributions are making, we would love to give you a tour, share our dreams, and brainstorm ways that we can increase our impact. Above all, we would sincerely like to thank you for your continued support.

Warm Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jon Botten".

Jon Botten
Chief Executive Officer